

Change and continuity in Ancient Egypt

1 What does continuity refer to? (Tick 1 correct answer)

- ☐ things that change over a long period of time
- ☒ things that stay the same over a long period of time
- ☐ things that decay over a long period of time
- ☐ things that develop over a long period of time

2 How did hieroglyphs change across 3000 years of Ancient Egyptian civilisation? (Tick 1 correct answer)

- ☐ They became more detailed.
- ☒ They became less detailed.
- ☐ More hieroglyphs were added.
- ☐ Some hieroglyphs were removed.

3 In the Old Kingdom of Ancient Egypt, pharaohs were buried in pyramids; in the New Kingdom they were buried in the Valley of the Kings. (Fill in the blank)

4 For how long approximately did the Ancient Egyptian civilisation exist? (Tick 1 correct answer)

- ☐ 3 years
- ☐ 30 years
- ☐ 300 years
- ☒ 3000 years

5 Why did the River Nile continue to be important in Ancient Egypt? (Tick 2 correct answers)

- ☒ It made the land fertile.
- ☐ It was good for washing clothes.
- ☒ It was a transport route.
- ☐ It was good for swimming.

6 Across the 3000 years civilisation, Ancient Egyptians believed that the pharaohs were the human forms of their gods. (Fill in the blank)

